Fourth Liberty Loan Bond campaign opens

Today and tomorrow are "Honor Liberty Loan" Days.

Volunteer subscriptions are to be made today and tomorrow at all the banks and trust companies.

Although tomorrow is Regatta Day—a holiday—the banks and trust companies will remain open for Liberty Loan Bond sales.

Those who voluntarily purchase bonds on these two days will have their names placed upon the Honor List.

The campaign will be opened at nine o'clock this morning, when the city will be raided by a fleet of seaplanes.

Siren warnings of the approach of the fleet, followed by "whistle barrages," will be warnings to bond purchasers to seek refuge and bonds in the banks and trust company offices.

A goal of $7,000,000 for the campaign is unofficially announced.

Scores of captains and lieutenants have received final instructions.

City Will Be Raid-Subscribers Hasten ed By Fleet Of Aircraft This Morning

The Fourth Liberty Loan campaign in Hawaii opens today, with a goal unofficially set at $7,000,000.

No advises had been received at Liberty Loan headquarters from Washington last night as to the amount of Hawaii's quota, but in the lack of such instructions the committee in charge of the campaign is going ahead on the assumption that the figure mentioned, seven million dollars, is what the people of the Territory will be expected to subscribe.

And it is taken as a foregone conclusion that Hawaii will take the full amount of her quota. She always has "come through" in the past, and it is regarded as a moral certainty that she will not fall down this time.

WILL START WITH A BANG

Complete and elaborate preparations have been made for the campaign, and it will start off with a bang. The bombardment is expected to continue without intermission until the last dollar has surrendered.
